YOU'RE INVITED!

As you age, less can be more, especially if you've made the decision to downsize your living space. But making the transition from a large home to a smaller one can be a daunting task.

Senior move management company, Home Again, will be presenting tips on every aspect of relocating—from rightsizing, planning and packing, to getting settled into your new environment. With this guidance and your good judgment, finding the right size for your lifestyle can be easier than ever!

After the presentation, join us for appetizers, refreshments and a guided tour of our available apartments.
